Comments

Before each trip, the policyholder has to inform Bupa Denmark, filial af Bupa Insurance Limited, England about the name of the travelling employee together with the travel dates. If the agreed number of annual travel days is exceeded during the insurance period the policyholder shall be under the obligation to buy the number of extra travel days required.

The premium is payable in advance for the whole insurance period.

The policy can be cancelled by written request up to one month before renewal. Otherwise the policy will be renewed automatically and issued for another year.

Unused travel days may be transferred from one insurance period to the following period. The first 200 travel days are never transferable. Groups of persons not stated in the policy documents are not covered.
